Dear APF Branch secretaries

I am very pleased to inform you that at long last our APF website is live.
Site address is www.asiapacificpoultry.com.
Could you please pass this important news on to all your branch members.

You will see that there is yet a large amount of content to be placed on the site. I am hoping that much of this content will come from within the APF membership. Anyone wanting to contribute should respond using the Contact facility on the site. There is also more design work to come for the home page.

Some of the site is for members only and will have to be logged into.

To register as a member:

Use the Contact facility on the site.

Use that email address that you want to become your User Name

Send you full name and address so that your membership of WPSA can be verified.

A LOG IN password will be emailed back to you.

Use you User name and password to log in.

To log out, look in the black band at the bottom of the Home page.

The value of this new website will be in its use. I am hoping that all members will make it a frequent part of their poultry related activities. As the site fills with more content it will become more and more useful, both as a tool for individual members and as an important contributor to the operation of the Federation.

I ask also that each branch promote the website and try to encourage and obtain sponsorship from Asia Pacific companies. I think there is good value in the packages offered to potential sponsors. If we can gather in sponsorship it will mean a boost to APF funding. Then we can discuss new programmes for our members; special travel grants, scholarships etc.

If you have any comments or queries, please email me or use the website contact box.

Thank you and kind regards

Alan
